The President Speaks.
Russia Is Annoyed.
Paddy King on the Spot.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.
(Copyright, 1929, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

YOU will read the president's message. He tells you that we are at peace with the world. We are, and can remain so by attending to our own business, letting other peoples attend to theirs.

MANY Americans will regret, will disagree, with the president's opinion that this country should enter the World Court.

The United States for many years has done well, depending on the supreme court, taking its decisions from that court.

EUROPEAN nations are hostile to us, envious of us.

What issues have we that we should submit to judges that Europe appoints, overwhelmingly? Considering any feeble representation that we could have in that court?"

IT IS said that reservations exempt us from the court's decisions. If that is true, why go into the court at all? Nobody goes to court, saying "I am here, but I will leave the minute you undertake anything affecting me."

THE president's reassuring expressions on the stock market crash, and especially his energetic and effective action in the assembling of great industrialists and mapping out a prosperity program call for public gratitude.

THE president suggests that enforcement of prohibition laws, like enforcement of other laws, be transferred from the treasury to the attorney general.

The business of the treasury is to collect revenue. Therefore the treasury looked after whisky and moonshining when whisky paid a revenue to the government.

New that selling whisky or beer has been made a crime, everything concerning it should be turned over to the department of justice.

The president urges congress to make Washington, D. C., a bone dry example to the entire nation. A good idea, but can it be done?

RUSSIA naturally is annoyed at United States interference in China. The Russians say Uncle Sam is trying to snatch away their victory, and encourage China.

The United States is cleverly put in the position of leading the other nations to what Russia considers meddling interference.

YOU observe that Japan, Russia's neighbor on the east, holds aloof, refusing any share in telling Russia about her duties in China, beautiful peace, etc. Germany, Russia's neighbor on the west, while approving the position of Secretary Stimson, refused to send a note.

Having a closeup of Russia at hand, Japanese and Germans know that a conflict with Russia would not be pleasant.

MANY were the titles of P. J. King, of Chicago, known to his world as "Paddy" King. He was called "labor leader, racketeer, ex-convict."

Yesterday, "put on the spot," he was only a dead man, riddled with gangster bullets, his time having come.

CHICAGO believes that Mr. King tried to kill somebody on Sunday morning, or that his representatives tried to do the killing, and failed.

The person that escaped is supposed to have disposed of Mr. King.

In that world, where action speaks much louder than words, it is unwise to start anything unless you wish.

A MAN who understands coal and oil has a patent for burning coal underground in the mine.

Gas extracted from the coal would be piped to the surface and sold.

That is an improvement on blast.

Lindbergh Searches For Lost Air Mail Flier

Snow-swept Stretch

OHIO COMBED

Cleveland Aviator
Missing Since
Monday.

CLEVELAND, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, veteran leader of many an aerial searching squadron, arrived at the Cleveland airport at 8:30 a.m. today to take command of a fleet of 15 planes in a search for an old "buddy." Thomas P. Newson, air mail pilot who has been missing since early Monday morning.

Airplane Wreckage Sighted in Lake

CLEVELAND, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Wreckage, which appeared to be that of an airplane, was sighted about two miles out in Lake Erie, just off Edgewater park here today, according to a telephone call which was received at the Cleveland airport, the base of operations in the search for Thomas P. Nelson, missing air mail pilot.

Coast guards were immediately hurried to the spot where the wreckage was seen, to determine whether it is that of the plane which Nelson was flying when he vanished in a snowstorm early last Monday morning.

Defies Darkness and Storms.

Defying darkness and snowstorms, the Lone Eagle flew here from New York early today in an open cockpit Curtiss-Falcon biplane. His route lay over the same snow-swept path, which, it is believed, has claimed the life of Nelson.

Swinging his plane into line with the 15 crafts composing the searching squadron, Lindy, wrapped in a fur-lined flying outfit, heavy boots and a helmet, leaped out of his plane and hurriedly conferred with local airport officials.

Immediately afterward, he returned to his plane, signaled to the 15 pilots and roared his craft across the field into the air. One of the other members of the searching fleet followed.

Wings Way Eastward.

Led by the Lone Eagle, the squadron—the greatest ever assembled in this territory in search for a missing pilot—winged its way eastward over the snow-swept stretches which are believed to hold the fate of Nelson.

Each of the fliers was given a five-mile square portion of territory between here and Bellefonte, Pa., to scour. One of the points that will be thoroughly searched.

Lions Club Opens Charity Bazaar

Rugs, blankets, baskets, post-cards and articles in needlework made by the inmates of the Cloverhook Home For the Blind at Mt. Healthy, near Cincinnati, are being displayed at the charity bazaar, sponsored by the Lions club, in the Camarda building, formerly the Ford garage, West Fifth street, which opened today.

The bazaar is in charge of Earl Greenawalt. Wives of club members are assisting. Proceeds will go to the inmates of the home.

Members of the club at a dinner meeting in the grill room of the Travelers' hotel, last night, approved a plan to erect highway signs pointing the way to hotels and garages in the city. Organization of a Lions club in Salem was also discussed.

Woman Is Injured
When Struck By Auto

Mrs. Emma Call, Chadsides avenue, suffered severe cuts and bruises on the head when struck by an automobile driven by M. W. Reed, while boarding a street car in front of the Little building, Sixth street, at 9:15 o'clock last night.

Mrs. Call was taken to the City hospital where Dr. H. A. Turk attended her.

British Steamer Nor-

TUTUILA, Samoa, Dec. 5.—(INS)—All of the survivors of the wrecked British steamer Norwich City have been rescued, according to a radio message received here today from the steamer Trongate, one of the three vessels that were engaged in taking the crew from Gardner Island.

Eleven of the crew of 34 were drowned when the ship struck a reef off the island on Nov. 30. The vessel is reported to be a total loss.

HOLDUP VICTIM

Three Bandits Get

SECOND ROBBERY

Pretty Girl, 20, Forced To Hand Over
Money.

BOWLING GREEN, O., Dec. 5.—(INS)—For the second time within three months, an employee of the state bank at Rising Sun, 15 miles southeast of here, was today held-up and robbed of $2,000 by three armed bandits.

Miss Helen Bonawitz, pretty 20-year-old assistant cashier, was alone in the bank at the time of today's holdup.

The bank was robbed on October 2 and loot of $3,600 was then obtained.

Escape in Roadster.

The three bandits who participated in today's outrage escaped in a small blue roadster. They headed southward.

Miss Bonawitz, also a verteran of the first holdup, said she had noticed one of the men loitering about the bank.

Two other men, she said, then came in and ordered "stick 'em up." She complied and the two desperados scooped up $2,000 which was in the cash drawer.

They dropped a roll of bills which totaled $450 in making a hurried exit from the bank.

A resident of Rising Sun, which is in a rather isolated locality, saw what was taking place and ran to a nearby drug store. The bandits also saw him and they ran from the bank, not stopping to demand that Miss Bonawitz turn over the money that was in the locked vault.

Holdup in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—(INS)—Three bandits battered a runner of the Overbrook National bank of West Philadelphia unconscious early today and escaped in an automobile with his bag containing between $40,000 and $50,000 in checks.

The messenger, William Holloway, Brookline, Pa., was on his way from the bank to a branch office. He recovered in time to see the car speed south on 52nd street but failed to note the license numbers.

Governor Cooper issued a five-line statement at the time of the appointment in which he simply said he made the selection of the prosecutor after "careful consideration of many worthy candidates suggested."

Harter was prosecutor at the time Don Mellett, Canton News-publisher, was ambushed and slain because of his editorial war against lawlessness in Canton.

The prosecutor obtained the conviction of Pat McDermott, and three of his alleged fellow gunmen and the four are now serving terms in the Ohio State penitentiary.

Public and parochial school children have been asked to sell $1,000 worth of seals. Booths in downtown stores at which the seals will be offered for sale were also opened today.

One prize of $5 and two for $2.50 each have been offered school children who prepare the best posters showing the work which health seals accomplish. These posters must be left at the Y. M. C. A. not later than December 20.

The meeting will be held in the Deshler hotel.

Eagles Call State Meeting.

Ambrose Hancock, secretary of East Liverpool Aerie No. 457 Fraternal Order of Eagles, will attend a state meeting of representatives of the order to be held at Columbus next Sunday, when old age pension legislation, to be introduced at the next session of the general assembly will be considered. The meeting will be held in the Deshler hotel.

Relief Corps Meeting Tomorrow.

Woman's Relief corps will meet in session tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in the G. A. R. hall, East Fourth street.

The bazaar is in charge of Earl Greenawalt. Wives of club members are assisting. Proceeds will go to the inmates of the home.

Members of the club at a dinner meeting in the grill room of the Travelers' hotel, last night, approved a plan to erect highway signs pointing the way to hotels and garages in the city. Organization of a Lions club in Salem was also discussed.

the survivors from the island. Before they were finally saved, the Trongate appealed to the governor of American Samoa, asking that a cruiser be sent with seaplanes, in order that a landing might be made in the lagoon, which they reported swarming with sharks.

PATROL ADDED

Personal Appearance Need Will Be Stressed.

MIDLAND, Pa., Dec. 5—Plans for an inter-troop contest and a basketball league were announced today by Troop No. 1, Boy Scouts.

The Greyhound patrol was added to the three existing patrols. Harrison Heidel was elected leader. The other patrol captains are: Wolves, Robert Needs; Owls, Charles Bream; Panthers, John Green. Charles Bream was elected scribe of the troop for a one year period.

Patrols will compete within the troops, while the standing of the whole body will be compared with that of the other division. Points will be given for the largest attendance at each meeting, largest percentage of boys appearing in uniforms at the sessions, discipline in the line and marches, good turns recorded each day, percentage of tests passed and financial standing in the organization.

Four teams were chosen to play in the Troop No. 1 basketball league. Winning quintet will clash with the best players of the No. 2 Troop to decide the championship of the Steel City. Trophy will be presented to the winner. Team captains are: Tigers, John Green; Basket Kids, Robert Needs; Rangers, Charles Bream; and Pirates, Albert Revetta.

One troop will occupy the high school gymnasium each Monday night from 7 to 9:30 o'clock, when the league games will be played. Business sessions and test periods will be held in the portable school building on the alternating Monday night.

Alex Della Valle is scoutmaster of Troop No. 1, while James Scholl supervises Troop No. 2.

ENDED HEAD COLD CAUSED BY TRYING TO START CAR

Doctor Showed Quickest Way to End Cold and Help Avoid Risk of Pneumonia

Acting on the advice of his doctor, Charles V. Hutchins, like so many East Liverpool people, has found the quickest, safest and most pleasant way to end a cold instead of enduring needless misery.

When Mr. Hutchins went to start his car several nights ago the starter got stuck. Working for more than an hour to get it started, he became so overheated that his clothes were wet with perspiration. Instead of cooling off gradually, he jumped into the open car, hurried through the chilly air, to his appointment and developed a severe, feverish cold.

The following evening he called his doctor who advised Ayer's Pectoral. Taking a tempting half-spoonful every 15 minutes, as directed, he was able to sleep without coughing. He continued the treatment and in a day or so, the doctor reports, his cold had disappeared entirely.

Note: See other cases being reported daily in this paper—all certified by the attending physician.

Ayer's Pectoral was hospital certified as the best of different widely used methods tested for head colds, coughs and chest colds because it gave the quickest, surest relief with absolute safety. It is now manufactured by all leading druggists.

elaborate sarcasm. Her little hands stirred in her lap. Her head began to shake. She looked appealingly at papa, but he saw only Louise.

"Louise," he faltered, "you, you aren't making a mistake? Because of my . . . my . . ." He couldn't go on. He pointed at his useless legs, wrapped in the wheel chair.

"Peter!" mama shrilled, "I won't have you taking that attitude! Do you hear me? I won't have it!" Her bright eyes had brightened, she breathed deeply, her nostrils dilated. She had caught her husband's thought . . . Oliver Lachman . . . Louise was going to marry him after all . . . But even as she rejoiced, she wept. For Louise had not told her, she had kept it a secret from her own mother.

Louise stood up, one hand protectingly on her father's shoulder. She looked very tall and young and strong, standing beside the little wizened old man.

"There's no use making a fuss," she said simply. "Mat and I are going to be married Thursday, that's all."

"Mat! Mat Tully!" mama echoed, staring as if the possibility had never entered her head.

Nancy, moved toward her sister belligerently. "Don't you listen to mama!" she cried, "Don't you listen to me?"

"I wish I had your nerve!" she told her at last. "I never thought you'd have had the courage to break the news, and go on with that whippersnapper. That cheap ten cent scientist! Oh, what a fool you are. Oh, to think you'd do this, after all we've done for you; all I've sacrificed. Well, I won't permit it, that's all. I won't have it! Do you hear me?"

"Don't listen to her, Lou. Don't you let mama spoil your life! Don't you do it!"

And papa, forgetting himself and his infirmity in beholding Kitty's frenzy, tried to make peace amongst his women folk, as he had in the old days when the girls were younger, and Kitty thought their beaux unworthy. "Why Thursday?" he asked anxiously, trying to shush Kitty at the same time. "Couldn't you put it off a week, or two, dear? You don't want to worry your mother, do you?"

Louise smiled tearfully. She said in a voice that shook a little in spite of all her effort to keep it steady. "I don't want to worry anybody, but I can't help it. It must be Thursday. We're leaving Thursday for Kansas City. Mat must go home because his father is so ill, and there's some business. They've sent for him. He wants me to go too."

"Kansas City!" Mama spat it out. "Nancy wastes her time on Gales Flat, and now it's you and Kansas City. Oh why, why do both take up with such common people!" The tears rolled unchecked over her withered cheeks, down her best silk blouse. She wrung her hands and in panic nobody listened, they had all crowded around. Louise asking questions, exclaiming, even Peter had forgot her. "Get that time table out of my overcoat pocket, will you Nancy?" He adjusted his glasses. "I want to see what time you go through Ogden. I had quite a stop-over there, when I went East in 1914!"

Three days! So much can happen.

Finds a Way To Stop Attacks of Fits

Reports are received of an amazing treatment that epileptics state has proved successful in stopping their attacks. R. He now wishes to reach all those who have not been helped and to do so is making the startling offer of a generous treatment free to all sufferers. Anyone afflicted should write for this free treatment at once, giving age.—Adv.

Aunt Ellie, still chained to her chair by the broken hip that would never mend, listened to mama's hasty gabbled account, and Louise's sketchy explanation, and insisted upon seeing the young man for herself. She put on her best maroon quilted robe for the occasion and crimped her hair.

"There are a few things I'm going to tell him for his own good," she told the panic-stricken Lou. "Young men don't know how to take care of a wife!"

"Aunt Ellie—please! Aunt Ellie, if I beg you not to say anything to Mat—"

She wouldn't promise, but when the reluctant boy was presented Lou began to breathe easier. Familiar history, the "crick" in her hip and the difficulty of finding a good butcher nowadays more than filled their hour.

They were all ready to go when she suddenly remembered she had

HASKIN LETTER DAILY

By Frederic J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 5.—Persons who lost large sums of money in the recent stock declines will not take kindly to the idea that there are advantages to be seen in what to them was a catastrophe but, for the country as a whole, there are distinct gains to be observed.

Up until a century ago physicians employed bleeding as a cure for many ills, some old fashioned doctors regarding the operation as a specific against all ills from toothache or a broken leg to any sort of fever or even madness. They lost most of their patients if the practice were often repeated. But the ghosts of such physicians would doubtless be professionally pleased with what has happened to the American stock market this fall. The old theory was that the patient held too much bad blood which caused congestion and retained illness in the body; to get rid of the blood seemed to be a wise operation. Today, modern medicine uses blood transfusions but with little different purpose although more beneficial effects. The idea still is to increase the health of the body by introducing better blood. The same thing has been done to the stock market. It has been bled profusely. The muckrakers of yesterday would not have called it blood; they would have said the water had been taken out of the stocks. Yet it comes to the same thing. The system has been relieved.

For one thing, the rest of the country had been crying for many months that productive enterprise had been interfered with because so much money was concentrated in the stock market. That may have been true to some extent. It has become apparent that the big market declines have driven that money away from the stock market and out into the other regions of the country. The building industry is especially jubilant over the situation for hundreds of millions of dollars which have been tied up in New York are now flowing into first mortgages to finance deferred construction operations. Stock speculation gives brokers' clerks more work than they care for but building gives employment to hundreds of thousands of men and adds to permanent values.

Of course no money was lost in the stock exchange crash. No money was consumed, burned up, or destroyed in any way. A vast amount of it merely changed hands. What did disappear was a lot of over-inflated quotations: purely imaginary values, as it appeared when prices collapsed. But the money used for manipulating prices remains wholly intact and now is looking for other uses. Every dog has its day, runs the old adage. The stock market had a big one. Now others are having a chance. One group played with the surplus cash for a while now it is another's turn. It is like two boys with one top between them. One spins it for awhile and then comes the other's turn. The top is still in existence. Perhaps one boy can spin it to better purpose than the other.

Improvement in productive industry is much slower to become discernible than improvement in stock quotations. But there is an instrumentality of productive industry which serves as a guide in the form of trade acceptances.

A trade acceptance is never issued save in connection with some concrete business deal. The rate of interest paid fluctuates but there are no wide movements in value any more than in the value of a Federal Reserve note. Each trade acceptance represents a deal in goods actually in existence to a value as great as that of the face of the acceptance. With this in mind it is well to consider that the volume of acceptances at the end of last month was the highest it had ever been in the history of the country—in other words more money than ever before was actually engaged in financing actual deals in actual goods, financing their production, distribution, and resale. Also, the trend is on the increase. That money came out of the speculative stocks and went into the productive trade acceptances.

Bootleg money, that is, the sums of money poured into the market by others than banks, is rapidly vanishing. It was regarded as a source of danger and greatly deplored because its ebb and flow was beyond the reach of the usual agencies for credit control. That money, which had kept the market going has run to cover. As money cannot endure idleness that cover has consisted of sound investment in productive enterprises.

The Federal Reserve banks have been enabled, by the crash, to reduce the rate of discount which leaves the way open for member banks, if they choose, to reduce rates of interest to farmers, manufacturers, and others engaged in productive work.

One of the most significant happenings in connection with the drop in stock market prices has been the abrupt stoppage in the out-flow of gold. The United States had been losing gold and there was every expectation that the outflow would continue at an accelerated pace.

A. The British Embassy informs us that the style of architecture exemplified in the new British Embassy is called William and Mary.

Q. How long have cities in the United States had laws regulating gambling? G. P. C.

A. From the earliest history of the city governments there have been efforts to regulate gambling, but in 1880 in New York, the movement to check open gambling became particularly strong and from 1881-1884 many regulations were passed. By 1885 nearly all the chief cities had enacted statutes or laws.

There is another class which sometimes makes itself offensive, but more often wins admiration because it never gives in—never tries to slip out and save the burden somewhere else. This class sometimes gets hurt. It also is the class that accounts for most of the progress made in the world.

Three Columbus physicians have shown that they belong to this latter group by their actions in the case of a young man, of Westerville, Ohio, who was declared to have an incurable disease. Eminent specialists shook their heads and declared that his life was sealed. Aplastic anemia had never been cured and they advised their patient and his family to prepare themselves for the worst.

The Columbus doctors, however, refused to bow to the verdict and set about to find a cure. Their accomplishment is termed a miracle of science. Doctors G. I. Nelson, J. J. Gordon and S. A. Hatfield began feeding their patient the livers of unborn lives. Improvement in his condition was slow and for a long time it was not certain that he was making progress. The three men persevered and at last there was turn for the better. They had discovered a cure for an hitherto incurable disease.

The efficacy of the treatment has been demonstrated on another victim of the malady, whose case was not so far advanced. The second patient recovered quickly and was discharged as cured.

Refusing to Quit

There is a type of practical philosophy, one precept of which is knowing the proper time to "get out from under," to use the phrase of the street. Individuals who practice this philosophy are rarely found in the midst of a fight, are usually facing the other way when a crime is committed, and never prosecute their personal ambitions at the expense of their physical safety or good repute. They believe that their own life is the most precious thing they possess and should be safeguarded at any cost.

There is another class which sometimes makes itself offensive, but more often wins admiration because it never gives in—never tries to slip out and save the burden somewhere else. This class sometimes gets hurt. It also is the class that accounts for most of the progress made in the world.

Once Over

By J. J. Mundt.
Your Faults and Others.

Have you the opinion that you are about as near perfect as it is necessary for a man to be?

And do you feel that you have a right to those certain little intonations of social laws in which you indulge?

Perhaps you consider your little misdeeds not very serious any way.

By comparison you like to think you are considerably better than most men whom you know—sort of superior to them.

Are you as charitable in overlooking their faults as you are when you consider your own?

Do you not get quite a little satisfaction in enumerating the detrimental things you know about other persons? And, while you are relating the rumors, do you not add a bit to the scandal you hear and by your manner indicate that all has not been told?

Knowing yourself as you do, why should you desire to assist in circulating damaged reports about anyone?

Are there not many things that might be said about you that might contain enough of truth to be embarrassing?

What right have you to help spread evil statements about anyone?

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, Dec. 5.—Many printed rumors that Brione, the little Italian isle in the Adriatic, whether the Gene Tunneys fled from publicity, is booming, are not exaggerated. Glittering folders picturing its charms are racked in travel bureaus and returning voyagers say it is becoming an elusive haven.

When Tunney, already angry over the intimacy of the "Gene and Polly" tabloid headlines, was trying to escape, the journalistic pack in Paris, a friend told him of the isolation of Brione. They paid a visit and found it an ideal hideaway for their interrupted honeymoon.

There were scarcely more than a handful of sojourners there then—chiefly retired Englishmen and wives living in villas or at the lone hotel. Tunney found a sequestered place overlooking the sea. Here he and his bride walked, rode, and swam unmolested—for few weeks.

But the champion was still news-copy, despite his retirement, and correspondents "barged over" News was flashed to all corners of the globe bearing a Brione date line. Idle rich cruising in their yachts began to drop anchors nearby.

The drowsing village suddenly awoke. The island is owned by a rich and retired Viennese who gained the island through inheritance and was spending declining years there. He has been stirred by the possibilities. A big gambling casino and three hotels have possessed the blue print stage.

The social tide first set in late last summer when Vincent Astor's yacht lay off Brione. Tom Chadbourne steamed up in his palatial boat. Otto Kahn dropped over from Paris. George Bernard Shaw arrived, and the island got another shower of publicity. Bernard Gimbel called, too. And so it went.

A rule barring automobiles has been rescinded. Roads are being made. Tunney has become the local dictator and natives are already referring to him as the King of Brione. Added to this are reports that the island may become his permanent home.

Still the most finished worrier I know weighs 214 pounds. On the other hand, starting at scratch I'll worry almost any one for a quarter of a side and I'm certainly no Big Bill Edwards. So there you are, as the saying goes, are!

It not only results in a severe fight, but in the hurried destruction of the liquor.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME BY JOAN.

Christmas Savings Checks brought happiness to a number of folks the past few days. If you were one of them you certainly should be congratulated on the thought that prompted you last year to "Save for next Christmas."

You demonstrated to your own satisfaction that you could save if you really wanted to—you sowed the seeds early in the year—cultivated the ground throughout the year—and now you are reaping the harvest by receiving a nice Savings Check. And you'll want to enroll now in The First National Bank's Christmas Savings Club for 1930. No easier way to save money for Christmas spending and other uses.

Let the holiday season come—our merchants have spent weeks in preparations for it and are now ready with gifts for Mother, Dad, Big Sister and little brother—for Aunt Sue who has just everything—for the boy friend and for the sweetest Miss in all the world.

What with the many new pieces of Art—the original and the artistic window treatment and the formal opening of their Christmas Gift department — there's such a "Christmas air" about Lemmer's that you feel at once, you can't put off your Christmas shopping one minute longer. And really you shouldn't! Their gift collections are at the shining peak of their perfection. So many lovely beads and necklaces—simulated pearls and chrysalts. Imagine our surprise to find them marked only $1.95 as were any number of others. Make your selections now and a small deposit will hold it until you are ready for it. Even in the wrapping of gifts Lemmer's observe all the little niceties that add so much to the warmth and joy of their welcome.

Forgot the baby on Christmas? How could you? Just because he's too small to know what it's all about, is no reason for cheating him. My, how he'd chuckle if he had one of the new high chairs I saw at Crook's. Modern Art has even invaded the heretofore neglected field of high-chairs. Here's one in a pretty shade of blue and its back brace is no less than Jumbo the elephant. Now wouldn't that make any baby sit up and take notice? Another feature little Boy Blue playing the part of back brace. Here's another with a Windsor back—a maple-finished Colonial chair to give baby that Early American feeling. For the older children you'll find rocking chairs aplenty—many of them finished and upholstered like father's and mother's favorite. See them as soon as possible.

As in other years during the pre-holiday season, Frank Diamond's Haberdashery is prepared with an extraordinarily fine selection of Men's Wear that is bound to solve your perplexity "What to give Him." The very next time you're in the Diamond, I trust you'll stop at this popular Gents' store and take a lingering glance at their splendid assortment of Shirts and Sweaters—their fine display of the latest mufflers—their stock of new ties (they seem to have an inexhaustible supply of patterns and colors) to please every whim. In fact there's everything a man wears from head to toe (except shoes).

I'll declare 'bout the only thing that's hot about driving these cold days is a fellow's temper (by the time he gets the car to show any signs of returning life). And it's not all sunshine under the hood at times even though you have the right motor oil. Many so-called winter oils may give easy starting but they are too thin to lubricate efficiently. I'll tell you the fellow who has his oil changed at Milliron's Grease Palace certainly exercises his good judgment. They handle both Pennsylvania and Mid-Continent Oils and their service men know exactly what kind of oil your engine requires. A trip to this service station will save your engine and battery a lot of strain and we might add, your pocket-book, too.

Now isn't this a grand bit of news? Chrystal Chapter No. 18, O. E. S., is having a Bazaar for us this year. You'll recall the one they had last year and the many hand-made gifts that were featured. This year's display is an attractive one, too. There are beautiful quilts, boudoir pillows, lunchon sets, pillow-slips, towels, dolls, aprons—oh, a long list of things. On display tomorrow and Saturday at The Trotter Chevrolet company, Market street. There we will be a food sale also, so we advise an early visit.—Adv.

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

To end a stubborn cough quickly, it is important to soothe and heal the inflamed membranes, get rid of the germs and also to aid the system inwardly to help throw off the trouble.

For these purposes, here is a home-made medicine, far better than any you could buy at 3 or 4 dollars a can. From any druggist, get 2½ cans of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey to fill up the pint. This takes but a moment, and makes a remedy so effective that you will never do without, once you have used it. Keeps perfectly, and children like it.

This simple remedy does three necessary things. First, it loosens the germy phlegm. Second, it soothes away the inflammation. Third, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes. This explains why it brings such quick relief, even in the obstinate bronchial coughs which follow cold epidemics.

Pinex is highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for sore throats, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

EAST END MAJOR HUGHES IN PULPIT

Win My Chum Services Held in Boyce Church.

"If Christians would but act instantly upon the impulses that come to them from the Holy Spirit, wonderful results would accrue," said Major Joseph Hughes, of the Salvation Army, at the Boyce Methodist Episcopal church where he filled the pulpit for the pastor, the Rev. E. C. Brooks, in "Win My Chum Week" services last night. His subject was "Alive Christians."

Announcement was made that the Rev. Frank Stewart of Jewett, J., would be the speaker tonight. He has been a successful worker among the youth of the churches in which he has served.

Major Hughes spoke of the occasion noted by St. John when the people came to see Lazarus after he had been raised from the dead and found him with Jesus.

When people come to Christians and find them cold and formal they are naturally disappointed," he observed. "There are many wearing grave-clothes and with their jaws bound, apparently afraid to speak of that which they should. It is quite evident that the smell of death is upon others in that they adhere to things of the world which will ADD LIFE TO YOUR YEARS, AND YEARS TO YOUR LIFE.

When John R. Gordon, Danville, Ill., found himself unable to sleep after his day's work, constantly "tired-out" and continually pestered with urinary irregularities, he very wisely took Foley Pills diuretic, and says: "After just a few doses I felt better, could work with more ease, became stronger, and could sleep all night without a call." Men and women everywhere use and recommend them. In constant use over 25 years. Try them.—Adv.

WILLAMAN REVIEWS BUCKEYES' GRID SEASON

27 Given
Varsity
Letters

Larkins Among Winners of Coveted
"O".

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 5.—The swan song of the now-too-successful football season at Ohio State university was sounded last night at the annual appreciation dinner which is yearly tendered to varsity, reserve and freshman gridironers of the large state school.

Awards of the varsity "O" were also made and 27 knights of the gridiron were thus honored.

The greatest tribute was given to Allen Holman, the Buckeye's little field general. He was elected 1929 honorary captain. Holman was the best ball toter and forward passer on the team for two seasons and he is touted as being one of the hardest and surest tacklers in the western conference.

Coach Sam Willaman, sometimes known as "Smiling Sam," addressed the grididers and the 100 invited guests who were grouped about the long food-laden table.

The mentor reviewed the 1929 season, from the Wittenberg battle to the Illinois debauch.

He said the entire spring training was spent in building up a defense which had to be discarded at the Wittenberg game, when the coaching staff decided that Ohio must win the first few games or stink in the fire.

Lack of punting skill on the part of Iowa gave State its first Big Ten victory, according to Willaman. He said that his moleskin wearers were coached to block Iowa's kicks. They did block one and the flag of victory was unfurled from the stadium's flag post.

"Indiana Should Have Won." Ohio State outsmarted and out-fought Michigan for that win, the coach stated. "We beat them at their own game and outgated the Wolverines in the three characteristics upon which they have always prided themselves, regardless of the strength of their foes," said Willaman.

The coach caused a little gasp of surprise when he vouchsafed that Indiana deserved to win from Ohio State, when the tie resulted. He charged that the Buckeyes did not take the game seriously enough.

Willaman said that Pitt was one of the finest football machines he had seen in action this year and turned out that the eastern gridironers had been schooled in the department of the game at which State portrayed the weakest ability, namely, forward passing.

Wesley Fesler, Ohio's all-American end, was the only bright spot in the Northwestern defeat, said Willaman in recalling Fesler's run of more than 90 yards for the only "scarlet and gray" score.

Illinois found Ohio at its weakest while Zuppke's charges were at their best. Willaman declared in reviewing the homecoming game which Illinois and John Law won, the latter is mentioned on the scoreboard.

Tackles—William Bell, Akron; Chester Glasser, Youngstown; Bob Haubrich, Columbus; Richard Larbins, East Liverpool; George Marsh, Cleveland.

Ends—Wesley Fesler, Youngstown; M. R. Dill, Lakewood; L. J. Fontaine, Akron; J. T. O'Shaughnessy, Columbus.

Quarterbacks—George Fouch, Columbus; Allen Holman, Fairfield, Iowa.

Halfbacks—Charles Coffee, Salem; Bob Brady, Columbus; Al Hess, Cincinnati; Bob Horn, Columbus; Art Huston, Findlay; Arden McConnell, Massillon; Bill Nesser, Reynoldsburg.

Fullbacks—Stuart Holcomb, Erie, Pa.; Don McClure, Toledo; Russell Taylor, Sandusky.

Barratt, Carlin, Fouch, Glasser, Hess, Holman, Huston, McClure, O'Shaughnessy, Carter and Ujhelyi will be graduated this year. Coffee has been awarded a varsity "O" for the past three seasons.

FALL OF SLATE TRAPS MINERS

Workers Injured in Beaver and Callahan Slopes.

LISBON, O., Dec. 5.—David Lewis, West Washington street, veteran coal miner, was seriously injured about the back at the Beaver Coal & Clay company mine, west of Lisbon, by a fall of slate yesterday.

Lewis, superintendent of the Beaver mines, was running a motor car when 400 pounds of slate buried him. He was removed to his home and later taken to the Salem Clinic hospital by Dr. Seward Hartman for X-ray examination.

John Hayes, of Gavers, who is employed in the Callahan coal mine at Long's crossing, suffered a sprained ankle and cuts on his nose when trapped under a fall of slate yesterday.

RALPH FORD GIVEN DIVORCE

LISBON, O., Dec. 5.—Ralph Ford, of Washingtonville, was divorced yesterday from his wife, Bertha B. Ford. He alleged she attacked him with a butcher knife on last August 21 in their home, threatening to kill him, and then told him that she would turn on the gas in their home and kill him and all members of his family. They were married in Washingtonville on April 9, 1925.

20 ARE CALLED FOR JURY DUTY

LISBON, O., Dec. 5.—Clerk of Courts John Noble yesterday drew the names of 20 jurors who have been called for duty in common pleas court next Monday morning. The list includes: W. W. Mulford, B. F. Carson, Salem; Rachel Mettsch, Howard C. Johnson, Sarah Benedict, David Dalley, Daniel McCarron, Myrtle D. Bright, Harry O. Mansfield, W. C. Thompson, William A. Orin, East Liverpool; W. R. Lawson and Enos Moon, Wellsville; Nevin Albright, Lisbon; Charles R. Abblett, Susie and Sarah Johnson, Leetonia; Ralph Myers, Moutrie; Alice Yoder, East Palestine, and Marvin Lewis, Salem.

$512 VERDICT IN ROAD CASE

LISBON, O., Dec. 5.—A jury in probate court returned a verdict yesterday afternoon ordering the county commissioners to pay Mrs. Matilda Calvin, of Middleton township, $512 for the one and one-half acres of land used in the improvement of the East Liverpool-East Palestine road.

The case was filed two years ago

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years, and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, just a healing, soothing vegetable laxative safe and pleasant.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They help cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—headache—torpid liver—constipation, you should find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards Olive Tablets.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Hisey, of Unity township, has filed an action asking for a divorce from her husband, Roy Hisey, to whom she was married on April 15, 1914 in Youngstown. She also asks alimony for the support of herself and two children.

Mrs. Hisey charges her husband with habitual drunkenness for the last three years, with extreme cruelty toward her and using indecent language in the presence of their children. She also states that he has failed to provide for his family.
